

The Loggerhead

The Loggerhead has an eight-inch upper with a side zip and a protective gusset, with lightweight breathable luxurious mesh for the inner. We have used premium nubuck leather which is coated with an eco-friendly water-resistant protective coating. The inner sole is made from 100% recycled PU and EVA and in the midsole we have used a super light non-woven pressed fabric for anti-puncture protection that offers reduced weight and added comfort. The Loggerhead comes with a toe cap that is made from fiber glass and the outsole is made from natural rubber that is heat-resistant and slip resistant.

The Loggerhead is a wide-fitting boot. Sizing Guide (TurtleBoots are in UK sizing)

Turtle Footwear Ltd provides comfortable, lightweight, and stylish safety footwear to the construction, food processing, industrial and primary industries while using sustainable materials and offering a service to reduce the waste we and our customers produce.

Customers can return their used boots to us and we will actively recycle the rubber outsole and the steel and reuse these materials throughout our New Zealand partner network, reducing the amount of rubber and steel that goes to landfills.

Our leather is biodegradable and much easier on the environment while maintaining its high quality and durability.

This safety boot is approved to Australian and New Zealand standards AS 2210.3:2019 (EN ISO 20345:2011)
